

What makes a good nomination?

We asked members of our judging panel what they look for when selecting finalists...

It's important to include a good description of the project or person you are nominating

Include comments from people involved in the project

Stick to the word count

500

We love to see photos, videos and additional documents about your nomination make sure you include information about:

- how the project was service user driven

- how the project affected those who took part

Do not include any service user / resident names on the form

Susan. P. Jones

Submit your nomination at:
